

Here's the SCOOP on an exciting opportunity

We're looking for 20 great people to join our team.

Are you one of them? Stake your claim in the growing $41 billion pet industry! DoodyCalls is a low-cost, low-startup business with satisfied clients who provide steady, recurring revenue year-round—regardless of economic conditions.

Our growth plans call for us to launch 20 new franchises by December 2009.

Call Paul Martell at 603.746.2056 to learn more!

DoodyCalls franchisees stand apart from the competition. Recognized for their professionalism, they drive branded trucks, wear logoed attire, and benefit from the very best marketing, technology, and support systems.

Americans love their 63 million dogs, but they don't love what they leave behind. Who can blame them when the EPA places pet waste in the same category as oil and toxic chemicals?

40% of U.S. households have dogs and they create business for us—and you—each and every day. The unique DoodyCalls opportunity offers:

- Exclusive territories.
- A national call center that operates six days a week. We field new client inquiries so you can focus on building your business.
- Professional PR support. Our franchisees have already benefited from millions of dollars of PR exposure. We have been featured in hundreds of media outlets across the country. Recent exposure includes The Big Idea, Redbook Magazine, Inc Magazine, Entrepreneur Magazine, Business Week and USA Today.
- A scheduling, route optimization and mapping system to help you manage your client base and maximize your efficiency—and profits.
- An intensive 1 week training course followed by ongoing coaching support.
- A business model that diversifies its income by serving repeat commercial and residential clients. Our franchisees offer competitively priced services to their residential, apartment, and condominium customers.
